Upcoming Changes to Canvas

There are some changes coming up in Canvas Guides. On Saturday, April 22 Canvas is implementing the following features:

- Revised Guides landing page
- Improved Canvas Getting Started page
- Next and Previous links at the bottom of each guide
- Updated Table of Contents pages

What do these changes mean to you?

- You may see some changes in titles, chapters, and content locations.
- If you have embedded any content from the standalone site (guides.instructure.com), you won't see any significant changes. If you do, please let us know!

If you have linked any content from the Canvas Community, you will want to confirm that the linked URL still displays the content for your desired role.

Earthday.org Toolkits for Educators

Each year Earthday.org invites K-12 educators to join Earth Day Network and incorporate climate and environmental curriculum into their lesson plans during Climate Education Week: April 22-29, 2017.

This year's Climate Education Week Toolkit is a web-based, cross-disciplinary resource that includes a range of curricula, lesson plans, educational activities and films, and much more that will engage students to be fluent in local environmental issues.

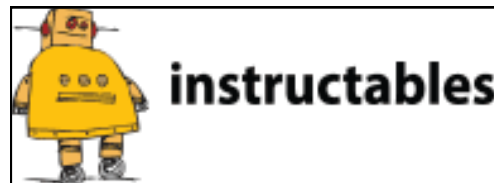

To check out the resources available, click the icon below and scroll down to the "Primary & Secondary Education" field.

Instructables

Instructables provides an incredible number of projects for technology, crafts, home, food, and a number of other topics. There are online classes that will show step by step instructions.

Instructables offers free premium accounts for teachers and students. To explore what Instructables can offer, click below.
