

KSC TECH NEWS

November 30, 2016

Holiday Gift Ideas for Techies

Fisher Price Code-a-pillar for children aged 3-6 years - depending on which order the colored segments are placed in determines the path of the Code-a-pillar teaching cause and effect.

Air Hogs Star Trek U.S.S. Enterprise - this drone is designed to look like the Starship Enterprise.

FIXD: Active Car Health Monitor - If you have an issue with your car you can use the FIXD Active Car Monitor which you can plug into your vehicle and connect it to your vehicle's onboard computer. It can read issues your car may be having such as when your "check engine" light goes off. It works with both Android and iOS devices and is compatible with vehicles manufactured in 1996 or later.

Check out this Site!

Kids.gov is a site for students grades K-8 where students can learn, play educational games and watch videos including a tour of the Smithsonian, and Storytime with Martha Washington. Click the kids.gov icon to visit the site!

Tech Tip: Lock your Computer

When you step away from your computer others have access to your email and files if you do not lock your computer. You should lock your computer any time you are not working on it to prevent others from gaining access to your information.

To lock your computer, use the Windows key + L.

To unlock, just type in your password.

Categories of Email and How to Deal with Them

To check out the different categories you can sort your email into and tips for dealing with your inbox more efficiently, click the Lifehacker icon.

Clean up Your Inbox in Outlook

Click the icon to see a short video on how to clean up your inbox in Outlook.

Windows 10 Tip

If you want to remove a live tile from the Start menu, right-click the icon, then select "Unpin from Start." The right-click menu also lets you resize tiles. Hover over the "Resize menu item" then select the size you want. There are four choices—small, medium (which is the default size), wide, and large.

Source: Mediati, Nick. "How to Customize Windows Start Menu." PC World. N.p., 08 Aug. 2015. Web. 28 Nov. 2016.

