KSC TECH NEWS
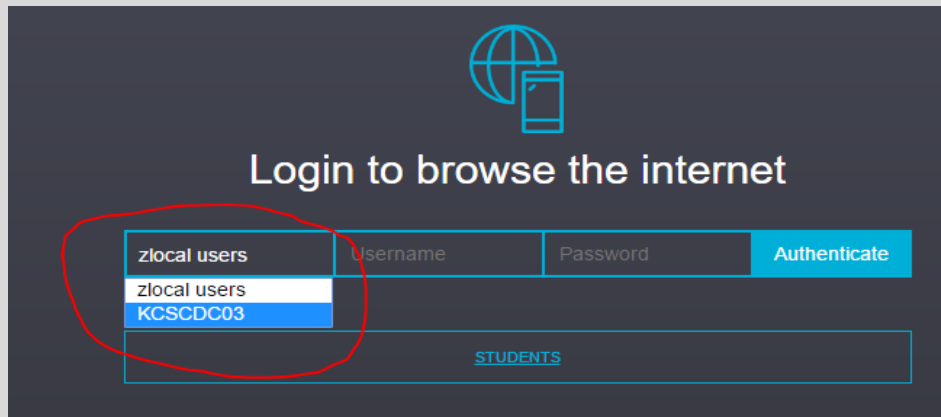

New Look to lsaccess.me/login Page
By: Megan McConnell

When you attempt to navigate to a website on your personal device using the "KSC Public" network or on a KSC device that isn't connected correctly to the network, you may see a screen like this blocking you from access. By connecting your teacher credentials to the web filter software, as shown in the screen shot, it will allow you to view the website.

Note: You must click on the zlocal user and change it to the KCSCDC03 and then enter your network username and password.

Resources for Upcoming Solar Eclipse

On Monday, August 21, the sun, moon, and Earth will align resulting in a solar eclipse that will span the US from Oregon to South Carolina.
Check out the following resources for activities, maps, a live stream of the eclipse, and classroom ideas:
